NO MORE BEER AFTER MAY 1.

Brewer Predicts Exhaustion of Supply; Fears Switch to Whisky.

Newark, N. J., Feb. 21.—Prediction that the nation's beer supply would be exhausted by May 1 was made in a statement issued here last night by Christian W. Feigenspan, president of the United States Brewers' Association, announcing that the brewers of this vicinity had agreed to pool their supplies to "allow each concern to stay in business as long as possible."

After adding that New York, New Jersey, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, and Connecticut would be "beer dry" by April 1, the statement continued;

"With the country dry of beer by May 1, you can see what it will mean for the months of May and June. The country will be on a straight whisky basis, and in these days of unrest it is dangerous to have steady beer drinkers switch to whisky. The results may surprise people."

ROB TRAIN OF $40,000 SILKS

Thieves Board Freight Near Scranton; Throw off Bales

Scranton, Pa., Feb. 21.—A gang of thieves boarded a Delaware Lackawanna and Western Railroad westbound freight train as it was leaving East Stoudsburg early yesterday morning, breaking open a car loaded with silk, between Gravel Place and Analomink. They dumped out many bales of silk valued at $40,000, which confederates loaded on two trucks and made their escape.

The tower man gave the alarm, and detectives and automobiles scouts have blocked all highways from the region, hoping to apprehend the thieves.

SPEAKS FOR ITSELF

The Gazette is, as it has ever been, the best read paper that has ever been published or circulated in our city. It's classified ad columns are being extensively patronized and the results are astonishing, even to the proprietors. Only a day or two ago a well known real estate firm, who is a constant advertiser, placed in his space a home for sale, and before the last route boy was out of the office the sale was made. On Wednesday a well known haberdashery store placed an ad in the help wanted column and in less than twelve hours he had twenty odd applicants. And this is just the usual happening daily. If you want to be convinced try the columns and reap the benefit.

Sanitary Fish Market will have on sale tomorrow and balance of week, Potomac herring (first of season) fresh buck shad, Spanish mackerel, steak cod, Jersey trout, lake trout, Cone River oysters, 40c and 50c qt. Stall No. 2 City Market. Phone 735. Open till 5 p. m. J. H. Robinson, Prop. 43-2t

TRIBUTE TO CARDINAL

Church Dignitaries From All Parts of America Attend Golden Jubilee Celebration.

Washington, Feb. 21.—James Cardinal Gibbons, head of the Roman Catholic hierarchy in the United States, yesterday received a tribute unique in the history of the church at the celebration of his golden episcopal jubilee. With a personal representative of the Pope in attendance, a brilliant Pontifical high mass was sung by the aged prelate in the church of the Franciscan Monastery at Catholic University in the presence of the most notable gathering of clergy and laity ever held in North America. Afterwards the dignitaries attended a dinner at the university where Cardinal O'Connell, of Boston presented the venerable priest with a purse of $50,000, the gift of his fellow bishops and arch-bishops.

Pope Benedict, represented by Archbishop Cerretti, assistant Papal Secretary of State, sent a letter, which was read at the mass, bestowing his benediction on the Cardinal, his clergy and the faithful of the See of Baltimore.

More than 80 prelates attended the service, Canada being represented by Cardinal Begin, of Quebec, and Mexico by Archbishop Orozco, of Guadalajara. Distinguished Catholic laymen present included Chairman Hurley of the Shipping Board; Justice McKenna, of the Supreme Court; Rear-Admiral Capps, Rear-Admiral McGowan and W. Bourke Cockran, of New York.

Cardinal Gibbons cabled Pope Benedict on behalf of the assembled clergy their "sentiments of gratitude for your marks of special benevolence toward them on this occasion."

Mention of freedom for Ireland in several addresses at the dinner evoked stormy applause from the audience, Archbishop Glennon, of St. Louis, speaking on "Our Country," was the first to touch on the subject. He declared America had achieved first place in the family of nations and that other countries were looking to the United States for aid and leadership.

Winston-Salem, N. Savage, Grover and Walter Miner, William Carter, Pleas Cline, Frank Fester, Ara Whittaker, Pearce Hammond, John Brandon, Arthur Manley, A. W. Castervers, Carl Fields, J. L. Habe and Chris Chappell.

The indictment on which convictions were secured charged the defendants with breaking in the city jail and attempting to do bodily harm to a negro prisoner, Russell High, on the night of November 17.

RICHMOND—DUSTIN FARNUM

"The Light of Western Stars," Dustin Farnum's big united superpicture at the Richmond tonight, is a magnificent picturization of Zane Grey's thrilling romance of the South Western Border and is acknowledged to be the best and biggest work this great screen favorite has ever filmed.

It is impressive, thrilling, picturesque, rich in human interest. Its grandeur of scenery is a positve delight.

It is a story that holds from start to finish. An out of the ordinary big six reel feature with real action in an artistic atmosphere.

It is clean and will please all classes of picture patrons.

READY FOR LAUNCHING

Gunston Hall Will Make Her First Dip to Water at 4 O'clock Thursday at Virginia Shipbuilding Company's Plant—President May Attend

The Virginia Shipbuilding Corporation will launch its first giant steel cargo ship, the Gunston Hall, next Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock, from the yards at Alexandria.

The time will not conflict with the parade in honor of the homecoming soldiers of the District, as there will be ample time after the parade for officials and citizens of Washington to reach the Alexandria yards.

It is even hoped that President Wilson, who drove the first rivet in the keel of the Gunston Hall, and Mrs. Wilson, who named the ship, will be able to attend the launching.

After Mrs. B. W. Morse, wife of the vice president and general manager of the Virginia Shipbuilding Corporation, has given the Gunston Hall her baptismal splash of wine, and the ship is afloat on the waters of the Potomac, luncheon will be served for 500 guests in the big commissary of the yards.

Distinguished men representing the government, the State of Virginia, the United States Shipping Board and the Virginia Corporation will make short addresses.

Officers of the corporation regard it as a good omen that their first ship the first modern steel vessel, and the greatest ship ever built on the Potomac, will be launched on the same day that President Wilson leads the parade of heroes on Pennsylvania avenue,

CHERRY DAY TOMORROW

Funds for Playground Association —Ladies Will Sell Souvenirs.

For the past four years it has been the custom of members of the Playground and Patent Teachers Association of Alexandria to carry out the very pretty custom of selling cherries on Washington's birthday on the streets of Alexandria. Tomorrow a number of our young girls will appear on the streets with baskets of cherries and there will also be two girls stationed at Mt. Vernon during the day for the purpose of dispensing of these commemorative souvenirs. It is hoped that every citizen in Alexandria will show his or her patriotism by purchasing and wearing one of these emblems, as the revenue of the sale of which will go into the funds of these associations to provide better playground facilities in Alexandria and thus improve the present conditions for the outdoor recreation and exercise of our children.

IS TORPEDO PROOF

Hood, Largest Vessel of Her Class, Has Outer Cushion And Cost $16,000,000

London, Feb. 21.—Britain's greatest battleship, just completed, the Hood, is 894 feet long. It is but seven feet shorter than the Aquitania, the largest British liner, and 104 feet longer than the Mauretania.

The Hood wil carry eight 15 inch guns and is said to be proof against torpedoes, being fitted with an outer cushion against which torpedoes and mines will explode harmlessly.

The Hood is expected to steam 40 miles an hour.

The cost of the ship is more than $16,000,000.

"IMPOSSIBLE," SAYS CAREY; GOES AND DOES IT.

Harry Carey, the Universal star, has registered another triumph in the role of "Kaintuck" Cass, a regular Hillbilly of the backwoods of the State noted for its blue grass and its beautiful women. In essaying the role of "Kaintuck," Carey declared that he thought it impossible to have a man of innate refinement vizualize an uneducated ignoramus. That is just what the original "Kaintuck" is. Because Carey felt he had to accomplish the impossible he worked harder in this picture than any of his previous productions. And he won. He has made "The Scarlet Drop" his most human picture to date.

The great picture will be shown at the Grand Theatre tomorrow in a continuous performance from 2:30 in the afternoon until eleven o'clock. You will not regret seeing the thrilling screen.

FOURTEEN INDICTMENTS

Grand Jury Returns True Bill in Case of Slayer of Policeman Campbell—Will be Arraigned Wednesday—Oehlert Trial Set for March 6.

True bils to fourteen cases were beturned by a grand jury in the corporation court this afternoon. Judge L. C. Barley presiding with A. S. Donihan as foreman.

One case was that of James H. Lawrence, charged with shooting and killing Policeman Walker W. Campbell. The majority of the other cases were for alleged infractions of the state prohibition laws, four indictments being returned against one colored man for this offense. Several were for petit larceny.

A date for the trial of Lawrence will be fixed February 26 on which date the prisoner will be arraigned.

The court fixed upon March 6 as the date for the trial of Wiliam H. Oehlert, charged with shooting and killing Linwood Kidwell.

The affair took piace the night of November 12, 1918, in the office of the yardmaster of the Southern Railway Company.

CLEMENCEAU'S CONDITION

Anxiety Manifest When it is Realized Premier's Wound is of a Serious Nature

Paris, Feb. 21.—There is no blinking the fact that Georges Clemenceau is in a serious condition.

The would-be assassin's bullet that was supposed to have sped clear through the flesh of his back from shoulder to shoulder was found today to have taken no such harmless course. It penetrated his lungs. X-rays taken early today traced it and disclosed its precise location according to a bulletin issued by the four doctors who are the "Tiger's" allies in his battle with death.

The worst of it is that no effort can be made for the present to extricate the bullet. The patient's condition is such as to render such an attempt perilous. Emission of blood is continuous and at last accounts his temperature was rising.

Paris police are tracing reports that the attempt at the Premier's life was made under Bolshevist instigation.

French authorities with the co-operation of intelligence officers of the associated powers, were conducting a sweeping investigation in connection with the attack on Premier Clemenceau which resulted in the aged statesman receiving a severe wound from a revolver bullet. Officials were working on the theory that the attack may have been only part of a plot against the principal allied leaders, although nothing had been unearthed, so far as is known, to support this surmise.

Emile Cotton, the assassin, is known to have attended a recent meeting of anarchists, in which the participants shouted: "Death to Clemenceau!" Cottin was arrested, in company with several other anarchists, at the time, but was later released. His explanation of the shooting is that he regarded Clemenceau as an enemy to the workers.

New York, Feb. 21—A hemorrhage of the lung, such as described in the official statement of Premier Clemenceau's condition, indicates a serious, though not necessarily fatal wound, Dr. Charles H. Peck, surgeon said yesterday.

"It is, of course, difficult to determine from meagre information received, the exact nature of the wound and the possible results," said Dr. Peck; "but such wounds are not always fatal. The greatest danger lies in possible infection which might result in pneumonia or pleurisy. The longer any danger of complications is averted the more optimistic the premier's chances become."

RULES OUT ADVOCATES

State Department Refuses to Issue Passports to Two Americans

Washington, Feb. 21.—England has filed with the State Department a premptory objection to the issuance of passports to any temperance or prohibition advocates from the United States to any part of the British dominions. "Prohibitionists keep out" is the meaning and effect of the British order.

This fact became known in connection with the refusal of the State Department to issue passports to Miss Anna Gordon, national president of the W. C. T. U., and Rev. D. N. Gandier, head of the California Dry Federation. Miss Gordon had been requested by the organization of which she is president to go abroad to address temperance gatherings in several foreign countries. Dr. Gandier was planning to lay before the peace conference a general scheme for world prohibition.

THE WOUNDED PREMIER

As had been feared, the condition of M. Clemenceau, the French premier, who was attacked by an anarchist this week in front of his residence in Paris, is more serious than the first dispatches stated. One of the bullets from the would-be assassin's pistol has lodged in the lungs, and the surgeons hesitate to operate owing to the condition of the French statesman. Indeed, fears for his life are expressed. In the meantime dispatches state that his temperature is rising.

It may prove a case similar to that of the late President James A. Garfield. For several weeks it was supposed that our martyre executive would recover. Two months later, however, pyaemia developed and the sufferer succumbed.

The shooting of Premier Clemenceau is interpreted by the British press as an evidence of the outcropping of Bolshevism, throughout the world. Newspapers, fearing "an epidemic of assassinations," suggest that international action should be undertaken to deal with the anarchists.

In this connection it may be stated that Dr. Friedrich Adler, who assassinated Premier Stuergkh at Vienna in 1916, has been proclaimed President of the German-Austrian republic by tne defense troops outside the town hall.

A MARKED CONTRAST

There has been no session of the Alexandria Police Court during the past twenty-four hours. While we read of turbulent scenes in other sections of the world, it is gratifying to realize that our old city has, so far, been exempt from such turmoils.

But we should not close our eyes to the fact that evils threaten the welfare and the stability of society. Giant forces let loose from order strive savagely to uproot the moral bases of civilization. True, the present scene of this upheaval is in far-off lands; so ,too, was the terror of the war. But modern man moves swiftly on his course; invention brought the war to America, awakened her to the danger, revealed the world-wide meaning of the Teuton threat. America is still called the home of civil order.

BOLSHEVISM IN AMERICA

From the purlieus of Petrograd has arisen a menace called Bolshevism. The name had its origin in the separation of the Russian Social-Democratic Labor Party into factions at its convention in 1903. The Bolsheviki, or members of the majority, were radical Socialists, where as the Mensheviki, or members of the minority, were moderate Socialists. But the Bolsheviki, needless to reiterate here, have overstepped the bounds even of Socialism as it is ordinarily understood, if it is understood by Socialists even. And the world fully understands Bolsehvism to mean license, wantonness and murder for the beuefit of a radical minority.

As the Columbiad says, America has its Bolshevism. True, until recent silly efforts at "demonstrations," it was masked as Socialism, pacifism, anarchism and "internationalism." Perchance, the fact that it is an "ism" may mean menace to America is slight. But at any rate it brings the immediate and converse menace of suppression to America—unless our civil officers, instead of clapping the fanatics into prison, shall give them every chance to take that old time cure for all isms," ordinarily called "letting off steam."

Thus for demonstrations! As to the causes, sane Americans can over come the menace in every day life. First, an even-handed justice, a charity that creates self confidence, a more application of true Christianity to business as well as to home, would eradicate some of the causes. Secondly, a clear exposition of the real freedom we enjoy here, contrasted happily with what Bolshevism brought to Russia, would help to eliminate misconceptions due to ignorance of American traditions. And thirdly, were the obtrusive evidences of wealth less blatantly flaunted by individuals before the eyes of those that have them not, it would reduce the source of common irritation—and by the same token restore to the possessor of them some sense of the value of simplicity, an art in living somwhat forgotten in the scintillating lights of our numerous and devious Great White Ways.

LABOR VS. BOLSHEVIKI

Russian workers, or many of them, seem at present to be clothed and in their right minds. The labor element in Muscovy is turning against Bolshevism, and demanding peace. They have seen enough of the reign of the "Lord of Misrule."

Men of prominence in America, as well as most of the newspapers, are doing everything possible to keep labor and Bolshevism apart. No fears are expressed for the honest and law-abiding working men, but anarchistic speakers, posing as socialists, who refuse to labor themselves, are working in season and out of season to bring sympathy from the toilers by creating dissatisfaction in labor's ranks. They are fomenting strikes and bringing about friction between employers and employees.

But some workingmen are prone to look through the spectacles of these enemies of law and order, and move like blind-bridled horses. They, however, form but a small minority, and are kept in check by their more sensible and far-seeing comrades.

It should be useless to portray the evils which would come upon this world were the wave of Bolshevism to spread over the earth, which is the evident purpose of those who are engaged in propagating this doctrine. The mechanics and workingmen generally would be the first to suffer. But few of these classes have the opportunity to lay aside much for rainy days, and millions would find themselves out of employment with actual want staring themselves in the face. It was so when the French revolution gathered force, and such distress would not be confined to one nation, as then, but the gaunt spectre of famine would stalk everywhere.

Common sense should teach all that should troublous times be precipitated capital, that most sensitive thermometer, would hie itself to safe retreats and manufacurers and commerce would be brought to a standstill.

We have no anxiety concerning the course of organized labor. Their officials are men of observation and sense, are the bulk of the rank and file, but the time has come when toilers, those who earn their living by their mental powers as well as those who form the brawn of our glorious country, should take due notice and act accordingly. We want no Bolshevism in the United States, and without the aid of the elements it is appealing to, this exotic from the land of the Czars would die aborning over here.

WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY

If all the trees were cherry trees
And all parents were unwise
Enough to present hatchets to
Each boy of George's size
It would be tough on everyone

GERMS WEAPON IN WAR

Philadelphia, Feb. 21.—Disease germs rained from the sky on armies and cities, may be the destructive agents of the next war instead of high explosive shells, bombs and bullets, declared Isaac Sharpless, president emeritus of Haverford College, in speaking against compulsory military training in the public schools.

Dr. Sharpless, who engaged in a debate Wednesday of the "Main Line Forum" in the Woman's Club, of Ardmore, said the war just ended was a war of chemists. The next conflict would be a war of biologist he predicted.

The thought outlined by Dr. Sharpless was used years ago by Jack London, who, in a fiction story, told of the conquest of China by airmen who hurled down bacteria-filled glass tubes on the Chinese people.

Strong support of military training in the schools was voiced by Prof. R. T. Shaw, of the West Philadelphia High School, and by Ensign Stephen Knowlton, U. S. N.

Professor Shaw asserted that military training was not only of value to the nation but helped in the physical and mental upbuilding of the youth of the country.

In dwelling on the possibility of the use of disease germs in warfare Dr. Sharpless said:

"While this may be too horrible even to contemplate now, nevertheless it is a possibility, and even a probability, to be reckoned with and certainly it should be most seriously considered before we begin to burden ourselves with the inevitable costliness of military training. For it certainly will be costly, and we, the taxpayers will have to pay the cost."

A COUNT of parties seeking position through the "situations wanted" columns of last Sunday's Star, Post and Times showed 139. Among the applicants were 14 bookkeepers, 15 clerks, 17 stenographers and typewriters, 3 electricians and 6 chauffeurs. About 80 of the advertisers were persons with qualifications and abilities that would make good radio operators, inspectors and aids, vocations in which they would not have to seek the jobs, as the demand is greater than the supply, and will be for years. The same condition obtains all over the country, and in no paper or magazine did you ever see an advertisement where a radio operator or inspector was seeking a position. In the face of these facts, don't you think wireless a pretty good thing to take up, especially when you can acquire the art right here at home in about 14 weeks? Our school is the largest radio institution in America, is fully equipped with ship apparatus, etc., and our staff of instructors is composed of expert first grade and extra first grade commercial, government licensed operators. Tuition fee small; easy terms. Morning, afternoon and night classes, with hours to accommodate all. No time required from your present employment. Radio inspectors receive $1,200 to $3,500; merchant marine pays $110 and up, with living expenses. Radio aids, $6 and $8 per day. Thousands of commercial houses throughout the country will use wireless after peace has been signed. New classes for beginners will start next Monday, 24th. However, there is some advantage to be gained by starting during the present week. Don't sell or borrow on your liberty bonds. We take them at par and accrued interest with a premium. HISTORIC FACTS

Today, February 21, is the anniversary of the murder of James I. of Scotland and of the death of Robert Southwell.

In 1885, on February 21, the Washington Monument, at Washington, D. C., was dedicated. The monument is an obelisk of gray granite 555 feet in height. The dedication ceremonies were set for the 21st as the 22d, Washington's Birthday, fell on a Sunday in that year.

In 1901, on the 21st, the United States Steel Corporation was incorporated in New Jersey.

On February 21, in 1917, the British troops in Palestine captured Jericho, fourteen miles from Jerusalem.

Robert Southwell, an English Jesuit and poet, was born in Norfolk in 1561. Ben Johnson said of him that he would willingly have destroyed all of his own poems to be able to claim Southwell's "Burning Babe." In the judgment of posterity Jonson's enthusiasm is not shared.

James I. of Scotland, was born in 1406. He is one of the last known of the Scottish kings, a man of great physical strength and marked character. He was also skilful at music and painting, and was the author of a book called the "King's Quair"—that is, the "King's Book."

Scotland was in a turbulent and unsettled condition when James came to the throne. A strong man was needed to govern the country, and a hard task was before him. "If God grants me life," said James on his accession, "I will make the key keep the castle and the bracken bush the cow," meaning that he would make the law obeyed in every part of lawless Scotland. The whole of James' reign was taken up in showing the Highland chiefs and the outlaws that he was not a man to be trifled with. He was murdered at the monastery of Perth in 1436 by Sir Robert Graham and his men.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

A dispatch from Munich reports that Prince Joachim, youngest son of the former Kaiser, has been arrested on suspicion of connection with Spartacan intrigues.

During a conference of British miners yesterday it was announced that the miners of Scotland, Northumberland and Durham had voted ten to one in favor of a nation-wide strike.

The Allied Armistice Commission during the negotiations at Treves refused to grant credit for American food to be sent into Germany, demanding cash. As a result, the Germans agree dto pay $11,000,000 for 135,000 tons of food.

A certain detachment of New York troops arrived in Berlin yesterday and were billeted in hotels, according to a dispatch from the German capital. The hotel managers have filed a joint protest, which, however, is expected to avail them nothing.

Three men who, the police say, were attempting to smuggle whisky into Detroit, Mich., were killed late yesterday afternoon when their automobile was struck by an interurban car at Wyandotte. The victims were foreigners and lived in Detroit.

Two encounters between Mexican soldiers and Yaqui Indians have occurred near Nogales in the last forty-eight hours. The last crash was within nine miles of Nogales, Sonora. Twenty Mexicans were reported killed. The Yaqui casualties are unknown.

Former President Taft's denunciation of Senators who are opposing the league of nations has amazed and shocked Republican Senators who are aligned with that opposition. All of them were wondering yesterday whether they are included among those whom Taft said he "would not trust overnight."

Representative S. D. Fess, of Ohio, last night withdrew from the race for the Republican nomination for Speaker. This action was taken following an extended conference between Fess and Will Hays, Republican National Chairman. The withdrawal of Fess leaves in the race Representative James R. Mann, of Illinois, the minority leader, and Representative Gillette, of Massachusetts, who are acting minority leaders during Mann's long absence from the House on account of illness.

City Hall in Boston, was stormed all day yesterday by thousands of men and women who sought tickets to Mechanics Hall Monday night where President Wilson is to make his first public address following his landing in this country from his trip to the Peace Conference. It was estimated last night that 10,000 personal applications for tickets already had been made. Seating capacity of the hall is 7,500. Last night hundreds of mailsacks filled with applications for tickets from all parts of New England were being carted into the office of Mayor Peters, who is considering the advisability of drawing lots for all tickets.

Twenty years in the Federal penitentiary at Fort Leavenworth was the sentence imposed yesterday on Victor L. Berger, Representative-elect from Milwaukee, and his four co-defendants, following their conviction in Federal Court of conspiracy to violate the espionage act and obstruct the United States war program. This was the maximum prison sentence under the law. A motion for stay of execution was made. Judge Landis also overruled this. Attorneys for the defendants immediately went before the United States Circuit Court of Appeals, where Judge Samuel Alschuler granted stay of execution and fixed the bond at $25,000 for each, pending hearing on the appeal.

of the world's magic and only genuine corn-peeler, "Gets-It." Then, and then only, will you be sure that your corn will loosen from your toe so that you can peel it right off gloriously easy with your fingers. Take no chances of continued pain and soreness—why use greasy, irritating salves, plasters that shift and press into the "quick," razors and "diggers" that make corns bleed and also grow faster? Use painless, easy, always sure "Gets-It." There's only one like it in the world—that's "Gets-It." Millions have tried and O. K.'d it for years. It never fails. "Gets-It," the guaranteed, money-back corn-remover, the only sure way, costs but a trifle at any drug store. M'f'd by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill.

VIRGINIA NEWS

Dr. Robert C. Bryan, of Richmond, was elected president of the Tri-State Medical Association Wednesday night, succeeding Major Robert S. Catheart, of Charleston, S. C. The association includes members from Virginia and the two Carolinas. Clifton M. Miller, was chosen vice president for Virginia.

The United States destroyer Tripe is steaming to Newport News with the mutinous crew of the schooner Doverfjeld in irons, a wireless dispatch states. According to report, the Dovrefjeld was set afire by its crew three days after it left Newport News for Jacksonville. The vessel was under command of Captain Neilson, but nothing concerning his fate has been learned. According to the maritime exchange the Doverfjeld is a six masted American schooner.

Red Hill, the historic home of Patrick Henry, located in Halifax county, about thirty miles from Lynchburg, was destroyed by fire yesterday morning. The fire, which started in the roof, could probably have been extinguished in its incipiency but for the frozen water pipes. The old mansion is a complete loss, although valuable furniture and many famous relics on the first floor were saved. The loss, which is not known is said to be heavily insured. The property is owned by Mrs. M. F. Harrison.

The house of delegates of the West Virginia legislature has adopted a resolution, which already had passed the senate, providing for settlement of the Virginia debt on the basis proposed by Randolph H. Harrison, of the Virginia Debt Commission. The terms of settlement as presented to the legislature recently by Harrison were that West Virginia pay Virginia $1,100,000 in cash and $13,400,000 in 3 1-2 per cent bonds, less $1,000,000 in bonds to be held in the West Virginia treasury against certain certificates of indebtedness which have been lost and never had been delivered by Virginia.

BUILDERS TO CONFER AGAIN

Willing to Meet Employers to Prevent Nation-Wide Strike

New York, Feb. 21.—Reversing a decision made earlier in the day, the Building Trades Employers' Association has determined to comply with a suggestion of Secretary of War Baker for a conference of its representatives with those of the striking workers in the trades in an effort to end the nation-wide strike. This announcement was made last night by Samuel B. Donnelly, secretary of the Employers' Association.

Secretary Baker's suggestion, made after a conference in Washington with representatives of both sides, in which Secretary of Labor Wilson also participated, was that a conference be held here before Monday, and that if this conference failed to bring a settlement the representativs meet him and Secretary Wilson again on Monday. Mr. Donnelly said the conference here probably would be held tomorrow.

AN ALLIED THREAT

May Occupy Ruhr District if Spartacans Bring About a General Strike

Copenhagen, Feb. 21.—An allied threat to occupy the Ruhr district if the Spartacans bring about a coal shortage through a general strike was reported from Berlin late yesterday.

The German Reds are preparing to carry the strike into the heart of Germany and force a decisive struggle between capital and labor.

In the Duesseldorf district, sixty-three mines are idle, most of them by Spartacan compulsion.

Spartacans and governments forces have clashed in the Ruhr district and bloody machine gun battles have been fought, according to dispatches from Essen today.

More government troops are en route to the scene of the fighting.

Thirty-five mines are completely tied up by the strike.

The general strike is spreading rapidly in various parts of the country and a number of riots have occurred, according to reports received here today.

Eight persons were kiled and scores injured during a Spartacan outbreak recently.

PUTS ONUS ON PRINCE MAX

Erzberger Also Blames Militarists for "Refusing Wilson Peace."

Weimar, Feb. 21.—Military defeat caused Germany to accept the original armistice unconditionally, Mathias Erzberger, chairman of the armistice commission, declared in defending himself against bitter attacks in the national assembly.

The opposition was led by Herr Vogler, conservative leader, who charged Erzberger made the original armistice without authority. The Socialists and Democrats united in demanding Vogler be thrown out of the assembly, and he was finally forced to cease speaking.

"The original armistice was made on command of Max of Baden ((then chancellor) and upon the most urgent and frank demands of Von Hindenburg and the other militarists, who threw our country into the bloody war," declared Erzberger.

"We were defeated after the militarists refused a Wilson peace when it was available. They are responsible, not the present cabinet. They are the same people who stormed against the Kuehlmann's peace efforts in July, 1918."

Erzberger was cheered by all the delegates except the conservatives.

JOURNALIST SCORES BREST

R. A. Starling, Just Out Of Army Says Mud is Knee Deep

Danville, Va., Feb. 21.—"You can't say anything too bad about Brest," according to R. A. Starling, a Virginia newspaper man, who has just returned to his home town after spending 28 days in the American camp near the French seaport Mr. Starling is a survivor of the Otranto disaster and has just been given an honorable discharge

Speaking of Brest he stated that the mud was knee deep all of the time he was there and when it did not rain pitilessly there was a humid fog over the camp which caused sickness and a general depression in the morale of the Americans stationed there. The Government spent a small fortune in raincoats at Brest, for many of the men were given hard manual labor and rents in the waterproofs made them useless in that climate. One man drew 15 raincoats from the quartermaster while Mr. Starling was there. The tents, he said, did not have wooden floors and men frequently awoke to find their blankets saturated with water.
